² Effective with the release of the first quarter 2001 New Home Sales Price Index in April 2001, the Census Bureau began publishing the Fixed-Weighted Laspeyres Price Index on a 1996 base year. (The previous base year was 1992.) "Constant-quality house" data are no longer published as a series but are computed for this table from price indexes published by the Census Bureau.

*The composite affordability index is the ratio of median family income to qualifying income. Values over 100 indicate that the typical (median) family has more than sufficient income to purchase the median-priced home.

¹The Federal Housing Finance Board's monthly effective rate (points are amortized over 10 years) combines fixed-rate and adjustable-rate loans.

Entries under Annual Data are averages of the monthly rates.

*Data are from the Survey of Market Absorption, which samples nonsubsidized, privately financed, unfurnished apartments in rental buildings of 5 or more units.

At the beginning of 2006, the Census Bureau began using the Core Based Statistical Area definitions for metropolitan areas and introduced new sample cases from the Survey of Construction. This may cause some inconsistency with previous data in the series.

¹ Maintenance and repairs are incidental costs that keep a property in ordinary working condition.

² Additions and alterations to property outside the structure include walks, driveways, walls, fences, pools, garages, and sheds.

³ Additions refer to actual enlargements of the structure.

⁴ Alterations refer to changes or improvements made within or on the structure.

⁵ Major replacements are relatively expensive and are not considered repairs; they include furnaces, boilers, roof replacement, and central air conditioning. Effective with the first quarter of 2004, this survey no longer tabulates major replacements separately from other types of improvements. As a result, data previously tabulated as "Major Replacements" are now included in the columns of "Additions and Alterations."

NA = Data available only annually. Blank cells appear in the table because of a change in the survey.

¹Decennial Census of Housing.

²American Housing Survey estimates are available in odd-numbered years only after 1981.

³Annual Housing Survey estimates through 1981 based on 1970 decennial census weights; 1983 to 1989 estimates based on 1980 decennial census weights; 1991 and 1995 estimates based on 1990 decennial census weights. No reduction in nation's housing inventory has ever occurred; apparent reductions are due to changes in bases used for weighting sample data.
