New One-Family Homes SOLD AND FOR SALE

General Introduction

This document is an historical supplement to the current data issued in the C25 Series of Construction Reports: "Sales of New One-Family Homes." It is a joint publication of the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The joint study of the sales of new one-family homes was undertaken in 1962.¹ Among the individual subjects examined are the number of new one-family homes sold, the number for sale at specified points in time, the types of financing used in the sale of the home, the sales price (including the price of the site), and related subjects such as the amount of downpayment agreed upon, the number of square feet of floor area, the number of bathrooms, the number of bedrooms, the number of stories, the type of foundation, the type of parking facility, the inclusion or exclusion of appliances or central air-conditioning in the sales price, and the type of heating fuel used.

The relationship of new one-family homes sold in any year to the number started in the same year is complex. The total number of homes sold in any year includes all homes sold in the year regardless of the year in which they were started; some were started in a prior year, some will be started in a subsequent year, while the majority of homes sold in any year are, in fact, started in the same year. At the same time, total new one-family starts for sale in any year includes only the homes actually started in that year. Some of the homes started in any year were sold prior to the year started, and some remain unsold at the end of the year. A small number of the homes for sale are transferred or withdrawn from the sales market. This group of homes includes homes transferred to the contractor-built or owner-built or rental categories; homes converted to 2 or more housing units or to nonresidential buildings; and homes withdrawn because plans to build were abandoned.

The data presented in this historical supplement are in general the same as the data appearing in the monthly, quarterly, and annual reports from which they were drawn. In some cases, the format has been altered, and some changes in terminology have been introduced for greater consistency. In a few instances, minor corrections have been made in the figures previously published.

Chapter 1 of this historical supplement presents information principally for the United States, with a few breakdowns showing data for inside and outside the standard metropolitan statistical areas. Regional data are given in chapter 2.

This summary volume serves two immediate needs, first, to bring together for the convenience of users of the current C25 Series of Construction Reports--"Sales of New One-Family Homes" all the significant data published to date on new homes sold and for sale, and second, to provide through brief summary tables and charts a guide to an evaluation and analysis of the historical data presented. These objectives are an extension of the objectives of the monthly, quarterly, and annual reports where the emphasis is on the current data with only limited historical background.

A more detailed description of the survey of the sales of new one-family homes is given in appendix A.

¹Data originally published for 1962 are not fully consistent with those for subsequent years, and have not been included in this volume.

General Introduction

Appendix B gives definitions covering the principal subjects presented in this historical report--including the sale of a home, the start of a home, the completion of a home, closing costs, stories, and several others. Appendix C gives a copy of Form 900--the questionnaire used to collect the information presented in this report. Data collected for new one-family homes sold and for sale are included in this historical document; data collected and published in annual reports for other new one-family homes (contractor built homes, owner built homes and homes built for rent) have not been included in this volume.

Since the data published in this volume are the results of a sample survey, they are subject to variability arising from the fact that they are based on samples. This situation is explained more fully in appendix A. As that appendix indicates, the smaller numbers published in this report are generally subject to quite high sampling errors. These small numbers are generally appropriate as indicators of the order of magnitude which they purport to measure but, in many instances, do not provide useful indications of the changes from period to period, where those changes are small in relation to the sampling errors involved. Some indication as to the way in which the data published in this volume should be interpreted can be drawn from the discussion in appendix A. In general, these smaller numbers are reproduced herein because they have previously been published and have apparently been found useful despite their limitations.

As indicated in appendix B, a house is considered sold when a sales agreement is signed or a deposit is made to bind the sales contract. It is known that some of these sales agreements are not carried out either because of the difficulty in obtaining financing or for other reasons. The field work for the survey includes all sales agreements which are in effect at approximately the first of each month and does not follow through to find out whether any of these agreements are subsequently canceled. Work done in the early stages of the survey suggests that for the United States as a whole the proportion of sales agreements which were not carried through was not large and that the net changes (for example, in source of financing, downpayment, etc.) were not great enough to alter substantially the conclusions drawn from the survey of the sales agreements. It is presumed that the principal effect of the cancellation of sales agreement would appear in the timing of sales, in the source of financing, in the amount of downpayment and perhaps in the sales price with probably very little effect in the physical characteristics of the home.

Several other sets of data relating to the sales of new one-family homes are compiled within the Federal Government. These data are independently derived and, do not agree precisely with the figures contained in this document. In general, however, there is substantial agreement in broad terms. Three principal sources of such data may be mentioned:

(a) Data on Operations of the Federal Housing Administration. The various publications of the FHA provide the best source of data on the activities of that agency and on the characteristics of the homes with FHA-insured mortgages. The data appearing in this volume on sales of new homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages differ somewhat from the data compiled and published by the Federal Housing Administration partly because of differences in timing, partly because of differences in definition, and partly because one set of data results from a sample survey of builders while the other is derived from FHA operating records. The data contained in this volume, however, provide the basis for comparison of homes covered by FHA financing with homes sold with other types of financing and are entirely adequate for this purpose.

(b) Federal Home Loan Bank Board Series on Interest Rates and Other Characteristics of Conventional First Mortgage Loans. The Home Loan Bank Board series on conventional first mortgage loans includes information obtained from mortgage lenders on the prices of new homes sold with conventional mortgages. These data, which are derived from different sources and use altogether independent samples, differ in detail from those presented in this volume.

(c) 1967 Census of Governments. The Census Bureau's 1967 Census of Governments, in connection with its collection of data on assessed values of real property and the relationship between assessed value and sales price, provides information by States on the average sales price of new homes sold and on the number of measurable sales of new homes during a 6-month period generally in 1966. (See Volume 2, "Taxable Property Values," table 11.) These Census of Governments data are derived entirely independently of the data in this historical supplement. Allowing for the conceptual difference in timing, there is general agreement on the level of the average sales price. The large difference in the number of new homes sold, after allowance for the fact that the Census of Governments figures relate to a 6-month period only, is due to the limitation of the Census of Governments figures to "measurable sales only," omitting a variety of cases not appropriate to the purpose of that Census.

CHART 1— Median Sales Price of New One-Family Homes Sold, by Type of Financing, for the United States: 1963 to 1967

The median sales price of new one-family homes sold in the United States in 1967 was $22,700, an increase of 6 percent over the $21,400 recorded in 1966 and 26 percent above the $18,000 in 1963. The $22,700 in 1967 reflected a median sales price of $17,800 for homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages; $18,700 for those with VA-guaranteed mortgages; $26,600 for those with conventional mortgages; and $24,000 for homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions. The 26 percent increase in 1967 above the 1963 level included increases of 15 percent for homes sold with FHA-insured mortgages; 19 percent for homes with VA-guaranteed mortgages; 30 percent for conventional mortgages; and 28 percent for homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions.

Note: The base line is $14,000

CHART 2—New One-Family Homes Sold, by Downpayment, for the United States: 1963 to 1967

New one-family homes sold in the United States with reports of no downpayment numbered 207,000 or 10 percent of the total homes (2,063,000) with downpayment reported - including reports of no downpayment - for the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967. Approximately 9 out of every 10 homes sold with no downpayment were sold with VA-guaranteed mortgages.

Homes sold with downpayments of from 0.1 to 4.9 percent of the sales price account for 26 percent of total homes, and nearly 7 out of every 10 homes sold in this group were sold with FHA-insured mortgages.

Homes sold with downpayments amounting to 5.0

percent or more of the sales price make up 64 percent of total homes (2,063,000). More than 8 out of every 10 homes sold in this group were sold with conventional mortgages.

Homes sold with conventional mortgages (1,247,000) account for 60 percent of the total homes (2,063,000) with downpayment reported. Total homes with conventional mortgages include 23,000 (2 percent) with no downpayment, 133,000 (11 percent) with downpayments of from 0.1 to 4.9 percent of sales price, and 1,091,000 homes (87 percent) with downpayments amounting to 5.0 percent or more of the sales price.

CHART 3—Median Number of Square Feet of Floor Area for New One-Family Homes Sold, by Type of Financing, for the United States: 1963 to 1967

The median number of square feet of floor area for all new one-family homes sold in the United States during 1967 was 1,570, an increase of 3 percent over the 1,525 median square feet recorded for 1966 and 15 percent above the 1,365 median square feet reported for 1963. This 15 percent increase reflected increases of 10 percent, 12 percent, 13 percent, and 19 percent in the median square feet of floor areas reported for homes sold with FHA-insured mortgages, for cash or equivalent transactions, with VA-guaranteed mortgages, and, with conventional mortgages, respectively. The floor areas reported for 1967 recorded the smallest areas for FHA-insured homes, with a median area of 1,310 square feet; VA-guaranteed homes followed, with a median area of 1,345 square feet; homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions came next with a median floor area of 1,640 square feet; and 1,790 square feet, the largest median area, was reported for homes sold with conventional mortgages.

Note: The base line is 1,100 square feet.

Detailed Statistics

Chapter 1 presents 22 detailed tables of statistical data related to new one-family homes sold and for sale in the United States. No regional data are shown in Chapter 1. Most of the tables cover the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967; a few cover only 1964 to 1967; and one table begins with July 1966 because data for the type of heating fuel used in the home were not collected prior to that month. Seventeen of the 22 tables present annual data, 3 present quarterly data, and 2 present monthly data. Four of the 17 annual tables provide a breakdown for inside and outside the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

²This median sales price may differ slightly from that shown in table 2a because (1) table 3a excludes homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions, and (2) this amount relates only to homes reporting both sales price and downpayment.

¹This figure is less than the corresponding figure shown in table 3a because table 3b excludes not only homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions, but also homes sold with type of financing not reported.

²This median sales price may differ slightly from that shown in table 2a for "Mortgage Financing" because this amount relates only to homes reporting both sales price and downpayment.

¹These data exclude homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions.

²This median sales price may differ slightly from that reflected in table 2a because the amount shown here is computed from a total which excludes homes sold for cash or equivalent transactions.

⁴The FHA-insured component of these figures is zero because second mortgages are never issued for homes financed with FHA-insured mortgages.

CHART 5—Sales: Downpayment as Percent of Sales Price, for the United States and Regions: 1963 to 1967

Downpayment reports received for new one-family homes sold from 1963 to 1967 show generally an increase in downpayment as a percent of sales price for the United States and all regions. This increase is related in part to the shift to more expensive homes.

Downpayments are much less in the South because fewer expensive homes are sold in the South. Also, the proportion of homes sold with VA-guaranteed and FHA-insured mortgages is greater in the South than for any other region. Reports from very few homes sold with VA-guaranteed and FHA-insured mortgages show downpayments amounting to as much as 5.0 percent or more of the sales price.

The median percent of downpayment as a percent of sales price was 10.6 in 1967 for the United States, an increase of 2.4 above that shown in 1963. The 10.6 median percent reflected median percents of 18.6 for the Northeast, 16.8 for the North Central region, 6.1 for the South and 8.3 for the West. Comparisons of 1967 downpayments with 1963 show increases of 2.4, 6.0, 0.6, and 3.6 in the median percents reported for the Northeast, North Central region, South and West respectively.

CHART 6—Median Number of Square Feet of Floor Area for New One-Family Homes Sold, for the United States and Regions: 1963 to 1967

The median number of square feet of floor area for all new one-family homes sold in the United States during 1967 was 1,570, an increase of 3 percent over the 1,525 median square feet recorded for 1966 and 15 percent above the 1,365 median square feet reported for 1963. This 15 percent increase reflected increases of 20 percent in the Northeast, 30 percent in the North Central region, 9 percent in the South, and 12 percent in the West. The floor area reported in 1967 recorded the smallest median area, 1,450 square feet for the South and the largest, 1,735 square feet for the Northeast. The West with a median area of 1,645 square feet was somewhat larger than the 1,620 square feet area reported for the North Central region.

Note: The base line is 1,200 square feet.

Detailed Statistics

Chapter 2 presents 26 detailed tables of statistical data related to new one-family homes sold and for sale in each of the 4 regions--Northeast, North Central, South and West. As in Chapter 1, most of these tables cover the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967; a few cover only 1964 to 1967; and one table begins with July 1966 because data for the type of heating fuel used in the home were not collected prior to that month. Twenty-four of the 26 tables present annual data and 2 present quarterly data. One table provides a breakdown for data inside and outside the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas; another gives data only for inside the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas by region; and a third gives data only for outside the Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas by region.

Description of Surveys

The data relating to this survey are based on monthly sample surveys conducted by the Bureau of the Census under contract with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The information is obtained for a national probability sample of one-family homes for which building permits have been issued or, in nonpermit areas, on which construction has started, through monthly interviews with the builders or owners.

The sample for this survey of new one-family homes sold or for sale is a subsample drawn from the sample used in the Census Bureau's housing starts survey. Appendix B of each monthly issue of Construction Reports: Housing Starts (Series C20) describes the procedures employed in obtaining the sample used for housing starts. The subsample method consists of taking all one-family homes started in sample projects (or sections of projects) of 5 units or less; one-half of the homes in sample projects of from 4 to 10 units; one-third in sample projects of from 11 to 15 units; one-fifth sample projects of from 16 to 25 units, and one-tenth of the homes started in sample projects with 26 to 49 units. Projects with 50 or more one-family units started are broken down into smaller projects and sampled systematically.

The questionnaire (Form 900) used to collect the information needed for both the Starts Survey and the Survey of Sales of New One-Family Homes is reproduced in appendix C. The printout of Form 900 shown in appendix C was introduced about the middle of 1967, but the forms used earlier are very similar to it. Information collected in section III, for Contractor Built Homes, and section IV for Owner Built and Rental Homes is excluded from the data presented in this report.

The average monthly sample size of the entire sample for the Housing Sales Survey, including sample units reported in sections III and IV of Form 900, during the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967, is 5,900 units. Approximately 900 of the 5,900 units are reported as sold during the month, 100 as section III (Contractor Built) units, 100 as section IV (Owner Built and Rental) units, and, except for a very small number transferred from the survey as "out-of-scope," the remainder of about 4,800 units is reported as for sale at the end of the month. The entire sample for any month consists of a sample of homes introduced into the survey during that month (consisting of homes for which permits were issued and of homes started in nonpermit areas during the month), plus the sample of units selected in earlier months that had not been sold by the beginning of the current month.

Since the survey is based on samples drawn from building permits issued in permit-issuing places and from homes on which construction is started in areas where building permits are not required, there is no practicable way to obtain information on a sale until the permit is issued, or, in nonpermit areas, construction is started. For this reason, a small number of reports for homes sold are received one or more months after the month of sale. Each year, for purpose of tabulation a cut-off month is established. In the years 1963, 1964, and 1965, the cut-off month is March of the following year, in 1966 it is December 1966, and in 1967, January 1968.

Tabulations are based on reports received by the cut-off date. The scope of this report is defined to be homes sold in each year of the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967. Imputations are therefore employed to cover late reports received subsequent to the cut-off date. Imputations used account for about 2 percent of the total homes sold in the 5-year period, 1963 to 1967.

Appendix A

SAMPLING VARIABILITY AND OTHER LIMITATIONS

The estimates in this report are based on samples and are subject to sampling variability. These estimates may be expected to differ from those obtained by a complete census using the same schedules and procedures.

The standard error is a measure of sampling variability; that is, the variation that might occur by chance because only a sample of the population is surveyed. As calculated for this report, the standard error also incorporates in part the effect of random errors of response and enumeration, but does not take into account the effect of any consistent biases due to those types of errors. The chances are about 68 out of 100 that an estimate from the sample would differ from a complete census by less than the standard error. The chances are about 95 out of 100 that the difference is less than twice the standard error, and about 99 out of 100 that it is less than 2-1/2 times the standard error.

The following table is to be used in estimating the sampling errors of statistics shown in this report. If the statistic is expressed as a percentage, then the standard error will be in terms of the number of percentage points. For example, let us say we are interested in the number of new one-family homes sold in 1967 in the Northeast region for less than $12,500. Table 24A shows that 4 percent of the homes sold in 1967 for less than $12,500 were in the Northeast. Since the total number of new homes sold in 1967 for less than $12,500 was approximately 23,000 this number is the base of our percentage. Interpolation in the following table shows that the standard error of a 4 percent estimate based on 23,000 housing units is 1.2 percent. That is, the chances are 68 out of 100 that had a complete census been taken, between 2.8 and 5.2 percent of homes sold under $12,500 would have been in the Northeast (4.0 ± 1.2). If the number of houses under $12,500 in 1967 had been exactly 20,000 and exactly 5 percent of them had been in the Northeast, then the standard of error could have been read directly from the following table; in this case it would have been 1.6 percent.

To obtain an estimate of the standard error of the actual number of housing units rather than the percentage, multiply the standard error of the percentage by the base of the percentage. In the illustration given above, multiply the 23,000 by 1.2 percent, yielding 276 housing units as the estimate of the standard error. This permits one to make the statement that the chances are 68 out of 100 that a complete census would have shown the number of one-family homes sold in 1967 in the Northeast for less than $12,500 to be between 644 and 1,196 units (920 ± 276).

Definitions

Appliances in Sales Price—The tabulations on appliances include only the selected appliances (stove, dishwasher, refrigerator, clothes washer, and clothes dryer) which are included in the sales price at the time the original agreement is signed or the deposit made. These data include only the appliances that are included in the original agreement; that is, any appliances which are subsequently purchased from the builder and included in the sales price at the time of final settlement are not included in this survey.

Bathrooms—For the purposes of this survey, a full bathroom is defined to include a toilet, a basin, and a bathtub and/or shower. A half-bathroom is defined to include a toilet and a basin. A quarter-bathroom is defined to include either a toilet or a basin. The quarter-bathrooms were reported in the southwestern part of the United States. If the respondent reported "1-1/4 bathrooms," the house was classified as a 1-bathroom home; if the respondent reported "1-1/4 and 1/4" bathrooms, the house was classified as having 1-1/2 bathrooms.

Bedrooms—A bedroom is defined to include finished rooms specifically designed to be used as bedrooms, but to exclude dens convertible to bedroom use and spaces in attics and basements which can be converted to bedrooms.

Closing Costs—The closing costs are the total estimated costs customarily chargeable to the buyer for items which are incidental to the transaction. These costs include mortgagee's initial service charge, cost of title search, charges for the preparation of deed and mortgage documents, mortgage tax, recording fees, and similar items. They include, in addition, for homes sold with FHA insured mortgages, an examination or application fee. Items not included in closing costs are deposits for unaccrued taxes, insurance premiums, and similar items that are treated as prepayable expenses.

Downpayment—The downpayment tabulated is the amount reported as agreed upon at the time the original sales agreement was signed or deposit accepted. Changes in type of financing, changes in sales price due to revised building specifications, and other causes may affect the size of the downpayment after the initial agreement. Any such changes made after the original sale is reported are not reflected in the tables.

Financing, Type of—The type of financing tabulated in this survey is the type reported at the time the original sales agreement was signed or deposit accepted. However, changes in the type of financing do occur between the original contract signing and final settlement. These changes are not reflected in the tables. Homes financed with California Veteran's Mortgage loans are included with conventionally-financed homes.

Floor Area—For this survey, floor area is defined as the floor area of all completely finished floor space, including space in basement and attic with finished walls, floors and ceilings.

In concept, measurement is based on exterior dimensions. Measurements are taken to the outside of exterior walls for detached houses. Half stories are measured to the outside of enclosing partitions. Row houses are measured from the center-line of party walls and to the outside surface of the exterior walls.

About two-thirds of the respondents reporting floor space actually reported the number of square feet based on exterior dimensions; the remaining one-third reported the square foot area based on interior dimensions. For data presentation, the square foot area of this latter group was converted to exterior dimensions by applying a standard conversion factor of 1.08 to each building. Approximately one-fifth of the total homes sold are sold with no reports on the number of square feet of floor area.

Appendix B

Geographic Regions— The standard census geographic regions are used in the tables of this report. States contained in each region are as follows: Northeast-- Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania; North Central--Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas; South--Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas; West--Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, California, Alaska, and Hawaii.

Homes Sold—The homes sold category includes all homes for which a sales contract has been signed between the seller and purchaser. This includes homes for which a sales contract is signed before construction is actually started; that is, homes sold from a model or from plans for which the builder has a signed contract before any work is started on the footings or foundations. It also includes homes sold while under construction or after completion; that is, homes built on speculation.

Response Rate—The overall response rate for this survey is very high. Practically everyone asked responded to the questionnaire. However, response to individual items varied. For price and for the physical characteristics items (except square feet) the response rate during the 5-year period is within the range of 95 to 99 percent. Items with response somewhat lower than other items are particularly square feet and several items related to price (downpayment and closing costs). The lowest rates are 82 percent for the amount of the downpayment and 79 percent for the price per square foot; however, tabulations for these items require reports on the sales price of the home in addition to the amount of the downpayment or the number of square feet of floor area.

Sale—For the purpose of this survey, the sale of the home occurs with the signing of a sales contract or the acceptance of a deposit. This survey does not follow through to the final stage of the sales transaction.

Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas--The distribution of the data presented in this survey, "Sales of New One-Family Homes" between inside and outside Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA's) is based on the definitions published by the Bureau of the Budget in its recurring series Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas. To the extent possible, the effort is made to use in each year the latest available definitions, incorporating the most recent (generally annual) amendments.

Sales Price—The sales price used in this survey is the price agreed upon between purchaser and seller (and reported by the latter) at the time the first sales contract is signed or deposit is made for the house. The sales price does not reflect any subsequent price changes resulting from change orders or from any other factors affecting the price of the house. Furthermore, the sales price does not include the cost of any "extras" or "options" paid for in cash by the purchaser or otherwise not included in the original sales price reported by the seller.

The median sales price is the sales price of the home which falls on the middle point in the total annual series of homes sold; the point is so chosen that half the homes were sold with a sales price amount below that shown as the median amount and half with an amount above; the average—or arithmetical mean—sales price is obtained by dividing the sum of the total sales amount reported for all homes in the annual series by the number of homes sold in the corresponding year.

Stage of Construction

Starts--A home is defined as started at the time of excavation for the footings or foundations.

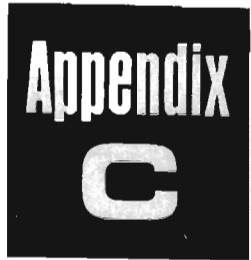

Completions--A home is defined as completed when all exterior windows and doors are installed and all finish flooring is put in place.

Story--That portion of a building between the floor and the ceiling or roof, or the next floor above in the case of a multistory house. A basement is not counted as a story even if it is finished as a den or recreation room.

Half story--A story finished as living accommodations located wholly or partly within the roof frame is considered a half story; it is tabulated in this survey as a whole story; for example, 1-1/2 stories is counted as 2.

Split level--Identifies a structure having floors on more than one level when the difference in some floor levels is less than 1 story. This definition is interpreted on the basis of local customs and may vary from area to area.
